Packing up the dreams . . .

PACKING UP THE DREAMS GOD PLANTED,
IN THE FIRM SOIL OF YOUTH; CAN'T BELIEVE THE HOPES HE'S GRANTED, MEANS A CHAPTER IN YOUR LIFE IS THROUGH . . .

BUT WE'LL KEEP YOU CLOSE AS ALWAYS,
IF ONLY YOU WOULD SING YOU'VE GONE,
CAUSE OUR HEARTS IN BIG AND SMALL
WAYS, WILL KEEP THAT LOVE THAT KEEPS US STRONG . . .

AND FRIENDS ARE FRIENDS FOREVER
IF THE LORD'S THE LORD OF THEM,
AND A FRIEND WILL NOT SAY NEVER,
CAUSE THE WELCOME WILL NOT END . . .

Classes

Juniors are 'Casual'

Pencils moving rapidly was all that could be heard as Junior class students rushed to finish research papers, short stories, chemistry experiments and Algebra II assignments.

The Junior Class did this all year and still found spare time to plan for the prom. They chose the SFA "Starlight Ballroom" as the locale for the affair, picked out the decorations, chose a D.J. from Houston, and estimated on how much food to buy for a lot of hungry students.

Between doing homework and preparing for the prom, the juniors also chose Senior rings. These rings symbolized that they were almost at the top of the ladder; just one more year, and all the years of going to school would finally be worthwhile.

SOPHOMORES SOCIALIZE

Tension mounts in the crowded room as the intern raises the scalpel to make the first cut on the slimy green surface of the frog. Biology I has begun.

This year sophomore students were able to dissect for their first time in Biology class.

They also took their first shot at being a journalist for The Bulldog GROWL.

This is a change for students who have only been allowed one elective in their freshman year.

The opportunity for choosing more electives has given students more freedom and independence, and along with that, responsibility.

Freshmen Face Decisions

It has been described as being black, large, and located on the bottom of Freshman Class schedules. It is the unknown elective. The new arrivals to the freshman class have had their first chance to take an elective.

They wrack their brains, trying to decide what elective they are going to take, since there are so many to choose from.

A good decision is required because choosing a proper elective could help in furthering future careers.

ROMANTICISM HITS EIGHTH GRADE

It used to be that boys couldn't stand girls and vice versa, but that all changed. In the eighth grade class, groups of girls here, groups of boys there, were all discussing the opposite sex. The children of a couple of years ago have finally begun the tough teenage years.

Seventh Graders Arrive

This year, the students in the Seventh grade have finally gotten to see what the inside of the High school classrooms look like.

Now these recent high schoolers will have to face the trauma of high school life, these being: looking at the same monotonous faces of teachers each day; dealing with seven tardies a day; and trying to get out of the bathroom and down the hall safely without being mobbed. They sure have a lot to look forward to next year! (More of it!)

Sixth Grade Advances

As the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" flow from the piano and the fifth graders sing gently in the background, the future doctors, lawyers, teachers, and presidents march down the aisle at the sixth grade graduation.

Sixth grade students will have to face the problem of being considered the "top" of their school to the "bottom of the ladder" at the high school. They will have to go from picking on kids younger than them to being picked on by older kids, but at least for this year they were "top bananna."

Changes Accompany Fifth Grade

This year the fifth grade was taught by Mr. McMeans, Ms. Lee and Mrs. Seago.

The fifth grade had sort of "three-period day": science and social studies, math and health. This schedule helped prepare them for the seven period high school day which awaits them in the near future.

An interesting year was in store for the fifth grade. Along with the school's Easter Egg hunt, they joined in with the sixth grade in the successful Valentine dance.

Fun-filling activities and hectic school work kept the fifth graders busy all year.

Learning Continues

"Quiet, baby chicks asleep" was what the sign said that hung on the door of a fourth grade room this year. The fourth grade students this year could be called "little farm hands" since they helped hatch and raise little chicks and ducks.

The fourth grade teachers and "mother hens" were Mrs. Skillern, Mrs. Julian and Mrs. Gilbert. They taught the students language arts, math, science, social studies, health and fine arts.

The fourth grade had an Easter egg hunt and were visited by Chief of Police Forrest Powell. He talked to them about drugs.

Lace, red and pink construction paper, and phrases like "Be Mine" and "I Love You" filled the rooms of the third grade students during Valentine's Day this year.

Besides decorating for Valentine's Day and all other holidays, the third grade also participated in Halloween dress up day and an Easter Egg hunt with the rest of the intermediate school.

Among third grade teachers were Mrs. Nicholson, Mrs. Weems, Mrs. Prince, Mrs. Cowan and Mrs. McMeans.

First Gives Foundation

First grade is probably the most important grade in a child's school career. Corrigan probably has some of the best first grade teachers around. Instructing in the basic skills were Mrs. Mahaffey, Mrs. Masters, Mrs. Parrish, and Mrs. Russel. Mrs. Porter was bilingual teacher.

First grade students have been very busy this year with the traditional Easter egg hunt and Christmas parties. Mrs. Mahaffey's class performed "The Glum Princess," a play for the other classes, and all first grade has been kept exceptionally busy with Mastery tests.

They also participated in the Statue of Liberty money raising contest and sponsored a perfect attendance contest. Students were among the well wishers and welcomed the Sesquicentennial Wagon Train.

Learning to work together in First Grade, is the first big step for these students.

SUCCESSES ABOUND

The first year in public school is always a very traumatic experience. Helping ease students into this hectic and different life style were kindergarten teachers Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Rich, Mrs. Dominy, Ms. Cluff and Mrs. Murphy, bilingual teacher.

This year the students went on a field trip to the Corrigan Fire Station. Local artist, Sue Hendry also visited the kindergarteners. She displayed her art work to help students understand and appreciate the arts.

Students also had music classes this year and really enjoyed them. Tommy Dominy visited and brought his rock demonstration, teaching the students about rocks from all over the world.

Graduation was the highlight of the year. The kindergarteners sang "It's a Small World" as they prepared to embark on their 12 years of school.

Texas Celebrates Birthday

Texas Sesquicentennial

Texas celebrated its 150th birthday this year. Many Texas cities celebrated it in many different ways; Corrigan welcomed the Sesquicentennial wagon train that had been touring Texas beginning in November.

The wagon train came through Corrigan on Saturday, January 18. It arrived at 6:30 p.m. and the V.F.W. sponsored a dance that night for the riders and anyone else that wanted to go. Sunday, after spending the night in the rodeo arena, in tents, and in the backs of wagons, there were church services held for the trailriders. They then headed for Livingston.

The welcoming committee for the wagon train consisted of: Johnna Lowe, senior; Kim Phillips, junior; Allison Snyder, junior; and Kim Whitworth, sophomore.

The Sesquicentennial trailriders show us how the "West was won" in the traditional dress style of 150 years ago.

"Help! Save our Spirit!" cried CCHS . . . and the S.O.S. Club came to the rescue. This first year clubs' purpose was to boost school spirit and promote all sports.

The Varsity cheerleaders and sponsor Teresa Wiedemann inducted a total of 69 people. These people were required to pay a two-dollar annual fee to cover expenses, such as supplies for signs and markers. The S.O.S. members also made victory lines at pep rallies, stayed after school to help the cheerleaders make signs, and gave gifts to the football players.

Bulldog Boosters

The Bulldog Boosters played a key role in their support of "the year of the "DAWG".

The main purpose of the club is to contribute to any activities that deal with the school, such as chartering buses for the CCHS football team and band. This was only a small part in the large role of the Bulldog Boosters.

The biggest money making activity for the Boosters was the concession stand, at home football games and track meets.

Booster club officers were Melvin Lowe, president; Caroline Scott, vice president; Carolyn Lowe, secretary; and not pictured, Lois Hubbard, treasurer.

Even with the large amount of members, the Bulldog Boosters encouraged more involvement from the Community, and urged membership.

Twirlers Add Sparkle To Band

Wild and Crazy Day had a great turnout.

The 1985-86 twirlers consisted of one senior, two juniors, one sophomore, two freshmen, and one senior drum major. The work began in the middle of the hot summer for the twirlers. Hours of practice, aching muscles, and endless new routines took much endurance and tenacity on their part. New routines included and performed were "California Girls," "What's Love Got To Do With It," "Born In The USA," "Rasberry Beret," "I Just Called To Say I Love You," and "Working In the Coalmine." The twirlers also helped the Corrigan Bulldog Boosters with various fundraising activities.

Twirlers brought a little bit of California to Corrigan.

The Bulldog coaching staff worked very hard this year to give us some exciting memories. The head "honcho" of the coaching staff was Coach Jim Skinner, who has been at CCHS for two years. Coach Ed Monzingo was assistant football coach and track coach. Pat Nicholson was varsity coach in football, basketball and track.

Richard Jackson coached J.V. football, basketball and track. Everyone's favorite, John Turpin, coached junior high football, basketball, track and Varsity baseball. He came to Corrigan from arch-rival Groveton. Don Carr coached Varsity Football and Varsity Baseball.

Teresa Wiedemann again took control of our girls and produced the first winning Varsity girls basketball team in a long time.

The Corrigan-Camden Varsity started out the year with a devastating victory over the Shepherd Pirates. The Bulldogs won with a 33 to 6 score.

The next week the Bulldogs faced the awesome Diboll Lumberjacks and were upset with their first loss of the season. The Jacks axed the Bulldogs 6 to 19.

The Varsity, with a 1-1 record played the Splendora Wildcats at the Bulldog stadium and came out a winner by defeating them 27 to 0.

Homecoming in Corrigan only meant one thing as far as football was concerned: the game against their archrival, the Groveton Indians. The Indians upset the Dogs, 6-39.

The Bulldogs didn't let the Groveton game get them down. The dogs traveled to Alto looking for a win, but the Yellowjackets' place kicker got a lucky 48 yard field goal to win the game 3 to 0.

The Grapeland Sandies handed the Dogs their next loss with a 19-6 score.

Next came the New Waverly Bulldogs. The CC Bulldogs put up a hard fight, but they lost 23 to 32.

Our Bulldogs loaded up on the "Ray Myers Express" and traveled to Elkhart to compete with the Elks. Corrigan was desperately looking for a win and they found it, 21 to 6.

The Bulldogs, excited by the win, came up against Lovelady and literally destroyed them with an outrageous score of 39 to 7.

The Dogs played the final game against the Trinity Tigers. It was a close game, but "no cigar" as the Trinity Tigers won 28-21. During the last game the senior players and their fathers were recognized, and the football sweethearts were chosen. The sweethearts were Senior Theresa Trahan and Junior Bridgette Hamilton.

The Bulldogs came out with a 4 win 6 loss record. They really put forth a lot of effort to earn those wins. The Bulldog team captains were: Stacey Lowe, Brad Purvis, Roosevelt Jolly, Cedric Brooks, Allen Gesford, and Wallace Jackson.

Rebounders Have Slamdunk

Year at CCHS

The year started off with a bounce. The Corrigan-Camden Varsity Boys basketball team, under the leadership of Coach Pat Nicholson, really entertained the audiences at all times.

They were a little slow at first, but by the time district got here, they really did it.

The one thing that hurt the team was a thing called the "NO PASS, NO PLAY" rule.

Bulldogs on the J.V. squad were moved up, and the J.V. was getting small. But Coach Nicholson, assisted by Coach Richard Jackson, held together to produce a winning team. The Dogs record at the end of the season was 14 and 7.

J.V. Boys are tomorrow's Varsity. That is the way it is supposed to be, but some fortunate J.V.ers were blessed with brains and House Bill 72. This permitted those few to move up to Varsity status during the middle of the season.

Veteran Coach Richard Jackson handled the team. He likes coaching J.V. sports so he could help the boys develop their skills for the future.

Playing J.V. is a totally different world, at least that is the way some of the players view it.

Jr. High Learns Basics

Junior High Basketball was a real "learning experience" in the 85-86 season because they had a whole new thing to learn.

The Junior High team was a consolidation of the 7th and 8th grade players.

The boys team was coached by John Turpin, who joined the staff this year. His previous experience came from Groveton. He taught the boys the "basics" and they had a real good season.

The girls were coached by Teresa Wiedemann. She coached both J.V. and Varsity teams. The girls fought hard and came out on top.

Varsity Boys Rule District 23AA

The Corrigan-Camden Bulldog Track team won the district meet for the eighth consecutive year.

The team was led by four coaches who were called "Dedicated" by their athletes. They were: Jim Skinner, Richard Jackson, Pat Nicholson and Ed Monzingo.

The Mile Relay was one of the most discussed topics during track this year. They won district and several other meets. They placed second in Regional and went to the State meet in Austin.

The Relay team had one "Powerhouse" in the form of Cedric Gilder (a.k.a. Ced) who excelled in individual events also.

Ced was the "master of Hurdles," for he went all the way to Austin and won state. He also went to and won state in the 400 meter run while he set a new conference record.

Corrigan-Camden was also blessed with a Pole Vault champion in the form of John Carr who took first in district and advanced to regional where he vaulted 13 feet, his highest of the year.

Summing up his career, Mr. Cockrell said, "It has been real rewarding and I've enjoyed it very much." After retirement, Mr. Cockrell plans to relax and take it easy.

Jasper Cockrell, fondly referred to by his faculty as "the hookin' bull", has been a dynasty in Corrigan for several decades. His sincere loyalty and dedication to our school, our children, and our community will not soon be forgotten.

Historian Attack Elements

Dealing with implementation of essential elements was one of the major concerns of the history department.

This year the history department was taught by Cathy David, Arvalee Dial, Sue Morrison, Ronnie Porter, Jay Steele and John Turpin.

The history subjects that were taught were: Texas History, which was taught to students in the eighth and ninth grades; World History, which was taught to tenth and eleventh grade students; and Government/Economics which was taught to students in the twelfth grade.

SPECIAL ED. HAS NEW ENVIRONMENT

It seems as though high-tech is popping up everywhere. The Special Education classes now have a computer.

Teacher Deidra Fore says the computers have really helped out. "They print out the essential elements and the individual educational plan for each student."

Mrs. Fore also added that there is a new curriculum which according to her has helped keep both students and teachers more organized.

Along with those changes, the department also got a new building which occupies all special education students from grades three thru twelve.

The C-CHS English Department has new faces as well as old ones this year. Returning to face another year were Mrs. Carrell Reed, Mrs. Ann Powell, Mrs. Terry Rodriguez and Mr. Arvalee Dial.

Without knowing what lay ahead, Mrs. Kathy Fenley, Mrs. Diana Kelm, Mrs. Sandra Coker and Mrs. Vicki Jones joined the staff.

These teachers must have had something going, because English class came alive for many students. Innovative teaching methods were incorporated by all the English personnel, making the 55-minute period one of the most enjoyable for a lot of students.

Putting on plays, writing short stories, illustrating book jackets and poems, and the ever-popular research papers were just some of the undertakings of this year. Even though there were still some of the cut-and-dried assignments, due to the ever-dreaded essential elements, all in all the year in English seems to have been a little more positive than normal.

In the science department this year, it was "business as usual." Mrs. Sydney Murphy, head of the department, taught biology, dissecting animals ranging from earthworms to sharks. LovelynJeanes also had her share of science headaches, as she attempted to corrall the junior high science students.

Also, several science students attended the physics olympics in Denton, sponsored by Jay Steele, a new addition to the science faculty at C-CHS. Included in the contests were building bridges and boats (small ones), spring-driven cars and catapults.

During the year, Halley's comet passed through our solar system, and science fiends attempted to aim a telescope at it for better viewing.

Can't forget math classes — there were so many of them. Likewise, there were so many teachers; George DuVall headed up the whole shootin' match. Also teaching math were Sandra Whittington, Floyd Eleby, Kenneth Henderson, Ed Monzingo, and Theresa Wiedemann.

The seventh and eighth graders finally got to use their new books, hopefully making things a little easier on them. They needed all the help they could get!

Also in the business department, Typing I received some new typewriters. There was also an addition to the business faculty in the form of Elizabeth McBride, a former Corrigan student.

Journalism I, II, and III started off the year under a new advisor. Mrs.Kathy Fenley, former Hudson teacher, took over the position of Journalism sponsor with a fresh new outlook on things.

"This is something different from what I have done before, and I thoroughly enjoy working with my staff," stated Mrs. Fenley.

In addition to normal journalistic activities, several Journalism students participated in district Journalism U.I.L. contest, which was directed by Mrs. Fenley. Six C-C students placed in district competition as Corrigan took first place. Four students advanced to regional competition.

ART AND SPANISH HAVE CREATIVE YEAR

Mrs. Agnes Smith has been teaching Art I, II, and III for 10 years, and she says that it is her first "LOVE." During the year she has taught: color and design; ceramics; art photography; and sketching and painting.

During the summer Mrs. Smith travels mostly in the southwest admiring the art and culture of other places. She said that she most wanted to expose her students to all art media in keeping with the essential elements.

Mr. Arva Lee Dial has been the local ESPAÑOL teacher here for several years. He teaches Spanish I, II, and English as a second Language (ESL) class.

Ms. Lucy Arellano is helping Mr. Dial out as an aide this year. Mr. Dial says she is a big help in the ESL class.

This year the band was under the direction of Mr. Kenneth Henderson, with an occasional assistance by retired band director, Mr. Byron Shelton.

Mr. Henderson guided the band through: marching contest; a Christmas concert; a division III and a division I at U.I.L. Concert and Sightreading Contest, and the Spring Concert.

Mr. Henderson and Mr. Shelton were both a tremendous help to select students who went to U.I.L. Solo and Ensemble Contest, and Class 2AA Honor Band.

HOME EC and AG Very Productive

Thread, material, furniture, family life, babies, and yes diapers are all basic characteristics of Mrs. Donna Jackson's classes.

Mrs. Jackson teaches Hm. I, Clothing, Housing, Child Development, and Home and Family living.

The new essential elements made the schedule hectic and very time-consuming, but help keep classes organized.

The no pass-no play rule has affected the Ag department as well as athletics. The students had to pass all courses in order to participate in Ag contests as well as showing an animal at the livestock show.

The Ag teachers are Joe Eidson and Ron Davis. Ag students do a number of things through the year like building gates, overhauling motors, fixing tractors, and making hay racks.

Even though the no pass-no "show" rule has put a large load on everyone, the Ag department is holding its own.

High School Has Hectic Life

They wake to the buzzing sound of an alarm clock at 6:00 in the morning. They stumble from the bed and get ready, and then drag their "not yet awake" bodies to the car at about 7:15. Then they arrive at the school campus at about 7:30 and sign in looking forward to the 3:30 bell to release the stress of the "Madhouse."

This is the day in the life of a teacher.

This year there are 35 of these happy people here at CHHS, instructing a variety of subjects. Also, eight aides helped the teachers through the school year.

The teaching staff was faced with a few hardships. They had to take the TECAT test, work and plan things with the Essential Elements, and put up with the end of school rush. They went through all this and are still dedicated to teaching. Wow! What a group!

Intermediate Influences

The 1986 school year was filled with continuous action and some anxiety for the intermediate faculty.

When the teachers were not helping their students, they were busy gathering their curriculum papers together to form curriculum guides for the state inspection.

According to Harlon Parrish, principal, the committee stated that the school district's curriculum guides were some of the best they had seen this year. He also continued that the staff was well prepared, and they just had to make sure they did what was acceptable to meet up to the school system's standard.

In addition to the state inspection, the faculty took the much-dreaded TECAT state-required competency test.

The Intermediate enrollement jumped from 323 in 1984-85 to 382 for 1985-86. There were 13 teachers and many different aides that made up the faculty.

Elementary Excels

The Elementary school faculty has their hands full with over 300 students in the little school house. The staff included 18 teachers, 13 aides, and four custodians.

According to Mrs. Carol Loving, the school secretary, there are many different aides. There are two special education aides, Gloria Monzingo and Barbara Eidson; one bilingual aide, Jolene DeLaPaz; one kindergarten aide, Linda Hendry; and two P.E. aides, Kathy Brown and Sherrill Putnam. The other aides are Title I aides who help the teachers in their classrooms.

The four custodians are Mr. and Mrs. Brooks, Mrs. Punch, and Mr. Murphy.

It was a crowded year, but overall the faculty pulled through with flying colors.

Staff, PTA Lend Support

The Maintenance of C-CISD work very hard to make our school campuses nice. This year they really had their work cut out for them getting ready for the State Inspection.

The Elementary campus' maintenance was maintained by such people as Danny Murphy, and Mr. and Mrs. Brooks. At the Intermediate school, Mr. Pullin made sure that everything was in order. At the high school, Dick Skinner was the maintenance supervisor.

Along with Mr. Skinner, Maria Martinez, Jeannette Nobles, Tracie Stanford, Dennis Armstead, Mike Parrish, and Ray Myers worked diligently.

Outside of the schools, "dragging" the roads were the C-C Bus Drivers. They were Mr. Eleby, Ray Myers, Honey Cockrell, Mack Dugat, Wilma Wagnone, Goldie Anderson, Belinda Byron, Glennie Fann, and Carol Loving with Brawley Andrews in charge of Bus Maintenance.

The PTA was also full-force this year. They were active throughout the year with many activities.

Some of those activities were: a balloon launch at the Elementary school; a fire prevention poster contest for the Intermediate, a Valentine dance for the High School, the starting of a scholarship program, and a teacher appreciation day.

They also had various fund-raising activities such as bake sales, a booth at C-C Day, selling Valentine balloons as well as having a C-C Day float, and working on the school bond issue.

PTA meetings were always interesting with various kinds of programs. Such programs include an Alcohol and Drug Abuse lecture, a Seat Belt Safety program, entertainment by Mrs. Geeslin's Music class of singing Christmas carols and a movie made by the fourth grade. Also, a little girl's gymnastic's class performed.

The PTA also made a film about the school and community for the accreditation team. They also showed the movie at one of their meetings.

Four years before the Alamo, he helped light a torch for freedom right in the heart of East Texas...

William Barrett Travis is best known by Texans as the heroic commander at the battle of the Alamo. But his leadership in the struggle for Texas independence began much earlier.

In 1832, his imprisonment by the Mexican governor at Anahuac in Liberty County so inflamed East Texans that they raised an army to free Travis and posted a document listing their grievances named the Turtle Bay Resolutions.

Travis's confinement and the Resolutions became a rallying point against the abuses of the Mexican authorities, and were among the first steps taken in Texans' fight for independence.
